Good morning, Emily,

I'm writing on behalf of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association (NRECA) to request a meeting with Bill to discuss the CPP repeal and replacement proposal and ANPR. Would he by any chance have time during the morning of Monday, March 26, or any time on Tuesday, March 27, or Friday, March 30?

Many thanks,

Tom

EPA Takes Another Step To Advance President Trump's America First Strategy, Proposes Repeal Of "Clean Power Plan"

WASHINGTON (October 10, 2017) – Today, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) Administrator Scott Pruitt issued a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NPRM), proposing to repeal the so-called "Clean Power Plan (CPP)." After reviewing the CPP, EPA has proposed to determine that the Obama-era regulation exceeds the Agency's statutory authority. Repealing the CPP will also facilitate the development of U.S. energy resources and reduce unnecessary regulatory burdens associated with the development of those resources, in keeping with the principles established in President Trump's Executive Order on Energy Independence.

"The Obama administration pushed the bounds of their authority so far with the CPP that the Supreme Court issued a historic stay of the rule, preventing its devastating effects to be imposed on the American people while the rule is being challenged in court," said EPA Administrator Scott Pruitt. "We are committed to righting the wrongs of the Obama administration by cleaning the regulatory slate. Any replacement rule will be done carefully, properly, and with humility, by listening to all those affected by the rule."

CPP Appears to be Inconsistent with the Clean Air Act

The CPP, issued by the Obama administration, was premised on a novel and expansive view of Agency authority that the Trump administration now proposes to determine is inconsistent with the Clean Air Act. In fact, the CPP was put on hold in February 2016, when the U.S. Supreme Court issued an unprecedented, historic stay of the rule.

“EPA will respect the limits of statutory authority. The CPP ignored states’ concerns and eroded longstanding and important partnerships that are a necessary part of achieving positive environmental outcomes. We can now assess whether further regulatory action is warranted; and, if so, what is the most appropriate path forward, consistent with the Clean Air Act and principles of cooperative federalism,” said Administrator Pruitt.

The CPP was issued pursuant to a novel and expansive view of authority under Section 111 of the Clean Air Act (CAA). The CPP required regulated entities to take actions “outside the fence line.” Traditionally, EPA Section 111 rules were based on measures that could be applied to, for, and at a particular facility, also referred to as “inside the fence line” measures. Prior to the CPP being issued, every single Section 111 rule on the books, including a handful of existing source rules and around 100 new-source rules, obeyed this limit. As the CPP departed from this traditional limit on EPA’s authority under an “inside the fence line” interpretation, EPA is proposing to repeal it.

EPA has now sent the NPRM to the Federal Register for publication. Upon publication, the public will have 60 days to submit comments.

The repeal package includes:

1. The “preamble,” which lays out the proposed legal interpretation, policy implications, and a summary of the cost-benefits analysis of the proposed repeal; and
2. The “Regulatory Impact Analysis (RIA),” an in-depth cost-benefit technical analysis.

CPP Repeal Saves up to $33 Billion in Avoided Costs in 2030

The proposed repeal both examines the Obama administration’s cost-benefit analysis, as well as provides insights to support an updated analysis of the environmental, health, and economic effects of the proposed repeal. The Trump administration estimates the proposed repeal could provide up to $33 billion in avoided compliance costs in 2030.

The previous administration’s estimates and analysis of these costs and benefits was, in multiple areas, highly uncertain and/or controversial. Specific areas of controversy and/or uncertainty in the Obama administration’s analysis of CPP include:

- Domestic versus global climate benefits: The previous administration compared U.S. costs to an estimate of supposed global benefits, and failed to follow well-established economic procedures in estimating those benefits.
- “Co-benefits” from non-greenhouse-gas pollutants: The Obama administration relied heavily on reductions in other pollutants emitted by power plants, essentially hiding the true net cost of the CPP by claiming benefits from reducing pollutants that had nothing to do with the rule’s stated purpose.
- Energy cost and savings accounting: The Obama administration counted “energy efficiency” results of their rule as an avoided cost, resulting in a cost estimate being considerably lower than it would have been if they used the appropriate practice of considering these effects as benefits, rather than subtracting them from costs. Had the Obama administration used the Office of Management and Budget’s longstanding requirements and accounted cost and savings accordingly, it would have presented a more accurate accounting of the total cost of the CPP.

In this proposed repeal and its accompanying technical documents, this administration is, in a robust, open, and transparent way, presenting a wide range of analysis scenarios to the public.

As part of the notice-and-comment process for this proposed repeal, EPA will continue this analysis and inform the public, as necessary, to get feedback on new modeling and other information. The final action on this proposed repeal will address the results of this ongoing work.

Forthcoming is an Advanced Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (ANPRM) that will be reflective of a thoughtful and responsible approach to regulatory action grounded within the authority provided by the statute.

“With this action, the Trump administration is respecting states’ role and reinstating transparency into how we protect our environment,” said Administrator Pruitt.

Background:

On March 28, President Trump signed an Executive Order on Energy Independence, establishing a national policy in favor of energy independence, economic growth, and the rule of law. The purpose of the Executive Order (EO) is to facilitate the development of U.S. energy resources and to reduce unnecessary regulatory burdens associated with the development of those resources. That same day, EPA Administrator Scott Pruitt signed four Federal Register notices in response to the EO, including a formal announcement of review of the Clean Power Plan. After substantial review, the Agency has proposed to determine that the Clean Power Plan (CPP) must be repealed.

AFP Praises Clean Power Plan Repeal

Grassroots organization has opposed CPP for years

Arlington, Va. – Americans for Prosperity commended EPA Administrator Scott Pruitt today following his announcement that he will sign a proposed rule to repeal the Clean Power Plan (CPP) Tuesday. The group has long fought to protect Americans' access to affordable, reliable energy, opposing harmful regulations like the CPP that force dramatically higher costs on American households.

Under this job-killing Obama-era energy rule, states would be pushed into draconian emissions cuts, forced to switch to costlier forms of energy which could ultimately cost consumers as much as $33 billion. AFP has consistently opposed harmful regulations like the CPP which would drive up energy costs for hard-working families, crush small businesses and expand federal powers with virtually no environmental benefit.

Americans for Prosperity had previously invested in grassroots efforts to oppose the Clean Power Plan and supported legal efforts from state attorneys general to halt its implementation. The group also recently issued a statement of support for Scott Pruitt's nomination to the EPA after he had been a leader in opposing the policy.

AFP Vice President of External Affairs Chrissy Harbin had the following to say:

"This is a welcome departure from the Washington-first, Americans-last approach that characterized energy and environmental policy under the previous administration. The Clean Power Plan (CPP) was an overreach of executive power; President Obama's attempt to implement an agenda so radical that he could not get it passed through Congress when his party controlled both chambers. It's great to see President Trump and EPA Administrator Pruitt rein in this sweeping mandate that forces states to slash their carbon emissions and switch to costlier forms of energy.

We are encouraged to see such decisive action by the Trump administration to offer relief from this legally dubious, drastic rule that posed such a significant threat to electricity prices and economic growth. This is a major promise kept by the Trump administration. Repealing the Clean Power Plan will restore these energy decisions to duly elected state officials, and Americans who need reliable energy to run their households and businesses. We look forward to continuing to work with policymakers in seeking policies that promote economic growth and protect Americans' access to affordable and reliable energy solutions."

The grassroots group has made unwinding overregulation a centerpiece of their Reform America 2017 agenda, a set of legislative priorities that the group will advocate for this year.

For comprehensive information about AFP's steps to get Americans relief from over-burdensome regulations in the energy sector and beyond, or for an interview, contact Chris Neefus at CNeefus@afphq.org.

Samantha Bee Calls on Patriotic Americans to Annoy Scott Pruitt

By: Jon Blistein, 10/26/17

Samantha Bee dug into Scott Pruitt's already grimy record as head of the Environmental Protection Agency and called on viewers to challenge his efforts to repeal the Clean Power Act on Full Frontal Wednesday.

The Obama-era regulation aims to cut pollution from existing power plants 32 percent by 2030. Despite the myriad environmental and health benefits of the Clean Power Act, Pruitt defended the repeal by touting the importance of deregulation and "working within the framework of what Congress has passed." As Bee also pointed out, his tenure as Oklahoma

Attorney General was packed with attempts to sue the EPA into oblivion and he continues to have a cozy relationship with the fossil fuel industry located in his home state.

"Not shockingly this gas-tastic Okie decided to gut his science advisory board, presumably because they were advising him to do some science," Bee joked. "But Pruitt already has all the advisors he needs: Mining executives!"

Bee then highlighted a meeting between Pruitt and Tom Collier, the CEO of the mining company Pebble Ltd. Partnership. One hour after they met, Pruitt ordered EPA staffers to withdraw the environmental restrictions on Alaska's Bristol Bay. "Holy shit, just one hour to fuck over Alaskan waters?" Bee cracked. "That's only half as long as Paul Ryan's daily self-hating exercise regiment!"

While Bee admitted stopping Pruitt is nearly impossible because elections have consequences, she did note one way Americans could needle him over the repeal of the Clean Power Plan. "Sometimes your jerk stick is the only thing you've got left in your toolbox," Bee said. "If any American submits a request for a hearing on this rule change before October 31st, Pruitt has to hold one. We don't know for how long or where it will be held, but I do know, if enough patriotic Americans show up that day, Scott Pruitt will be so fucking annoyed."

Comments and hearing requests can be submitted to the EPA via the Federal Register.

EPA to replace Clean Power Plan

By Emily Holden

09/12/2017 09:04 PM EDT

EPA plans to publish its proposal to rescind the Clean Power Plan and take its first step to replace the rule by the first week of October, according to a source familiar with the process.

The decision to publish an advance notice of EPA's intent to issue a new regulation on carbon emissions from power plants comes after months of lobbying from electricity company executives who think it would be the smart legal move. EPA Administrator Scott Pruitt had previously been resistant to replacing the Obama-era rule.

Without a rule on the books, environmental advocates could sue the agency — leaving businesses in limbo while the courts sort out the issue, industry officials had warned.

The U.S. Court of Appeals for the D.C. Circuit has frozen consideration of lawsuits against the Clean Power Plan while asking for status updates from EPA. In August, judges told EPA that without a replacement rule in place it was avoiding a "statutory duty" to regulate carbon emissions under the Clean Air Act.

EPA's decision to pursue a replacement rule suggests Pruitt may not challenge a legal finding that EPA must regulate greenhouse gases.

The agency told the court it would publish a rule to withdraw the Clean Power Plan this fall. The OMB first reviewed the rule withdrawal in June. At that time, EPA did not have plans to replace the Clean Power Plan, sources said.

Pruitt, as attorney general of Oklahoma, joined other states' lawyers in arguing that the Obama administration went too far in trying to curb carbon levels by encouraging states to shift away from burning coal and toward renewable power and natural gas.

One likely approach to a replacement rule would focus on improving coal-plant efficiency, so generators make more power while burning less coal.

EPA did not immediately respond to a request for comment.

Subject: Charleston Hearing - Panel Participants

All –

As you are aware, November 28 and 29 EPA will hold a public hearing in Charleston, WV, on the proposed repeal of the Clean Power Plan. We are looking for volunteers to attend to help coordinate and serve as panel participants. Panel participation is primarily a listening position whereby we hear testimony from interested stakeholders. We would like to assemble a list fairly quickly in order to let the travel coordinators know and so everyone can plan accordingly. If you are interested and available please confirm with me by 12:00 PM this Friday.

Subject: Public Hearing on the Proposed Repeal of the Clean Power Plan

Thank you for your interest in the public hearing on EPA's proposal to repeal the Carbon Pollution Emission Guidelines for Existing Stationary Sources: Electric Utility Generating Units, commonly referred to as the Clean Power Plan (CPP).

This email confirms that time has been reserved for Dan E Byers to speak on Wednesday, November 29, between 10:30-11:00 a.m. You will have a maximum of five minutes to present your oral testimony. The EPA will make every effort to follow the schedule as closely as possible on the day of the hearing; however, please plan for the hearing to run either ahead of schedule or behind schedule.

The hearing will be held November 28-29, 2017, in the Main Capitol Building at the West Virginia State Capitol Complex, 1900 Kanawha Boulevard East, Charleston, WV 25305. The Main Capitol Building is open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Visitors should enter through the East or West public entrances. After passing through security, speakers and attendees should proceed to the registration table and check in.

Please see the below for more information on the public hearing or visit EPA's website at <https://www.epa.gov/stationary-sources-air-pollution/public-hearing-repealing-clean-power-plan>

EPA will hold a public hearing Nov. 28 - 29 in Charleston, WV, on the proposed repeal of the Clean Power Plan. EPA has proposed that the Clean Power Plan is not ...

Thank you again for your interest.

Q: Will I have to go through any security measures in order to access the public hearing venue?

A: Yes, visitors must go through a metal detector to enter the West Virginia State Capitol.

Q: What do I need to do the day of the hearing?

A: You will need to go through security and check in at the registration desk prior to the time you are scheduled to speak. Checking in allows EPA staff to confirm you are on site and ready to be called to speak. EPA will make every effort to follow the schedule as closely as possible on the day of the hearing; however, please plan for the hearing to run either ahead of schedule or behind schedule.

Q: What type of parking is available around the venues? How do I access the venue by public transportation?

A: Metered parking is available at the West Virginia State Capitol Complex for $.25 per half hour. Please plan to bring quarters for use in the meters.

All day shuttle service is provided between the Capitol Complex and the Laidley Field parking area, about two blocks from the Capitol Complex. The shuttle departs from Laidley Field starting at 7 a.m. and ending at 6 p.m. Each stop is served approximately every 10-15 minutes.

Additional information on parking is available at <http://www.wvculture.org/museum/parking-travel.html> or at <http://www.legis.state.wv.us/Educational/citizens/guide.cfm>

Q: Is there a way I can participate in the hearing remotely? For example, can I call in to provide my comments?

A: There is no way to participate in the hearing remotely. However, comments on the proposal may be submitted through January 16, 2018, via the methods listed at <https://www.epa.gov/stationary-sources-air-pollution/clean-power-plan-proposed-repeal-how-comment>

Q: Are video cameras allowed at the public hearings?

A: Yes, video cameras are allowed at the public hearings.

EPA Announces Additional Public Listening Sessions on Proposed Repeal of Clean Power Plan

WASHINGTON (December 6, 2017) — The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) will hold three additional public listening sessions on the proposed repeal of the Clean Power Plan in San Francisco, Calif., Gillette, Wyo. and Kansas City, Mo.

"Due to the overwhelming response to our West Virginia hearing, we are announcing additional opportunities for the public to voice their views to the Agency," said EPA Administrator Scott Pruitt.

Public listening sessions will be on EPA's proposed repeal of the Carbon Pollution Emission Guidelines for Existing Stationary Sources: Electric Utility Generating Units (commonly known as the Clean Power Plan). Dates and specific locations will be released in coming weeks; please see the website for details. All persons wanting to speak are encouraged to register in advance.

"The Trump administration is listening to the people of Wyoming," said U.S. Senator John Barrasso (R-WY), chairman of the Senate Committee on Environment and Public Works (EPW). "Today's announcement that the EPA will hold a listening session in Gillette, on the impacts of the so-called 'Clean Power Plan,' demonstrates the administration's commitment to hear directly from the people who would have been hurt most by this punishing regulation. The Clean Power Plan would have meant lost jobs for energy workers in Gillette and across Wyoming. I am thankful to EPA Administrator Scott Pruitt for his leadership on this important issue."

Registration information will be posted at: <https://www.epa.gov/stationary-sources-air-pollution/electric-utility-generating-units-repealing-clean-power-plan>

Oral comments and supporting information presented at each session will be included in the docket for this proceeding.

Written comments about EPA's proposal must be received by the last day of the comment period, January 16, 2018. Comments should be identified by Docket ID No. EPA-HQ-OAR-2017-0355 and may be submitted by one of the methods listed on the Clean Power Plan Proposed Repeal: How to Comment web page.

Background:

Soon after the previous Administration issued the Clean Power Plan in 2015, 150 entities including 27 states, 24 trade associations, 37 rural electric co-ops, and three labor unions challenged the CPP, highlighting a range of legal and technical concerns. A few months later, the United States Supreme Court stayed the CPP, immediately halting implementation—the first time the Supreme Court had ever issued a stay to block the enforcement of a regulation.

On March 28, 2017, Administrator Pruitt signed a notice indicating the EPA's intent to review the Clean Power Plan, in accord with the President's Energy Independence Executive Order. On October 16, the EPA proposed to repeal the Clean Power Plan, proposing that it is not consistent with the Clean Air Act. EPA is now taking comment on that proposal and has extended the public comment period to January 16, 2018.

Thanks, Alex.

Here are a few suggested minor revisions to the reference list. I've just rechecked the employment section, and found two citations to be added (both were cited in the 2015 CPP RIA). Given that our review time is over, I thought I'd email you and see what you'd like to do with these, rather than adding them myself.

Arrow, K. J.; M. L. Cropper; G. C. Eads; R. W. Hahn; L. B. Lave; R. G. Noll; Paul R. Portney;

M. Russell; R. Schmalensee; V. K. Smith and R. N. Stavins. 1996. "Benefit-Cost Analysis in Environmental, Health, and Safety Regulation: A Statement of Principles.” American Enterprise Institute, the Annapolis Center, and Resources for the Future; AEI Press. Available at

<https://scholar.harvard.edu/files/stavins/files/benefit_cost_analysis_in_environmental.aei.1996.pdf>. Accessed September 25, 2017.

Schmalensee, R. and R. Stavins (2011). “A Guide to Economic and Policy Analysis for the Transport Rule.” White Paper. Boston, MA. Exelon Corp.

And one reference that could either be revised in the references, or in the text? I’m not sure which format would be preferred.

In current reference list:

U.S. Department of Energy (U.S. DOE). 2017. U.S. Energy and Employment Report. Available at: < <https://energy.gov/downloads/2017-us-energy-and-employment-report>>. Accessed 5/30/2017.

But DOE has now posted a second PDF file at that link, that wasn’t available back in May 2017. Now there are links to two separate PDF documents:

Download the full report and state charts.

 2017 US Energy and Jobs Report.pdf

 2017 US Energy and Jobs Report State Charts 2.pdf

In the RIA employment section, we cited them separately - DOE 2017a is the first link, the “full report”. DOE 2017b is the second link, the “state charts”. Not sure if folks prefer to list them separately in the references, or revise the section text to cite just one source for DOE 2017.

Thanks,

Ann

Hi Kathy, Robin, Alex, and Dave,

To help get things started, on the CPP repeal RIA revisions to the section on employment impacts, I've put together an initial draft, responding to interagency comments. I've also included draft responses to each interagency comment.

In responding to comments, I relied on interagency suggestions, our revisions to the CWR repeal RIA employment section, our discussions in the Task 1 workgroup and report, and pulling in additional details from the 2015 CPP RIA.

It would be great if we could meet sometime early next week to discuss.

I have set up a draft version of the CPP repeal RIA and separate document responding to interagency comments on my Sharepoint for your review. The links will soon follow this email.

This draft does includes placeholders for the executive summary and the review of studies by non-governmental institutions and researchers. Also, some fine-tuning of language, footnotes, and formatting, etc is in progress.

Please offer comments/suggestions on the documents using “track changes” by noon tomorrow (Tuesday, 9/26). We currently plan to send revised RIA to OMB cob Wednesday of this week.

Also, at close of business today, I plan to fold in the executive summary for your review. I will send an update when I do this.

Team,

Resulting from a discussion between EPA and OMB earlier today, we need to produce a timeline for producing a new CPP repeal RIA that contains new power sector modeling.

This timeline needs to be completed by cob tomorrow (Friday 8/25). We will produce this timeline and send to OAQPS management before an OAR/OP career staff manager meeting which will likely be scheduled for 2 pm Friday afternoon.

I will set up meeting for first thing Friday morning...not the best of timing, obviously, but this is not negotiable.

More details in the morning....thanks all and talk to you soon

To help get things started, on the CPP repeal RIA revisions to the section on employment impacts, I've put together an initial draft, responding to interagency comments. I've also included draft responses to each interagency comment.

In responding to comments, I relied on interagency suggestions, our revisions to the CWR repeal RIA employment section, our discussions in the Task 1 workgroup and report, and pulling in additional details from the 2015 CPP RIA.

It would be great if we could meet sometime early next week to discuss.

I have folded the draft executive summary into same draft RIA you have been reviewing.

The executive summary is still quite rough and long (many tables). While the structure is there, we will work tomorrow to figure out whether it is possible to make the summary more concise.

Thanks

I have set up a draft version of the CPP repeal RIA and separate document responding to interagency comments on my Sharepoint for your review. The links will soon follow this email.

This draft does includes placeholders for the executive summary and the review of studies by non-governmental institutions and researchers. Also, some fine-tuning of language, footnotes, and formatting, etc is in progress.

Please offer comments/suggestions on the documents using “track changes” by noon tomorrow (Tuesday, 9/26). We currently plan to send revised RIA to OMB cob Wednesday of this week.

Also, at close of business today, I plan to fold in the executive summary for your review. I will send an update when I do this.

Thanks, and let me know if you have any questions,

Thanks, Alex.

Here are a few suggested minor revisions to the reference list. I've just rechecked the employment section, and found two citations to be added (both were cited in the 2015 CPP RIA). Given that our review time is over, I thought I'd email you and see what you'd like to do with these, rather than adding them myself.

Arrow, K. J.; M. L. Cropper; G. C. Eads; R. W. Hahn; L. B. Lave; R. G. Noll; Paul R. Portney;

M. Russell; R. Schmalensee; V. K. Smith and R. N. Stavins. 1996. "Benefit-Cost Analysis in Environmental, Health, and Safety Regulation: A Statement of Principles." American Enterprise Institute, the Annapolis Center, and Resources for the Future; AEI Press.

Available

<https://scholar.harvard.edu/files/stavins/files/benefit_cost_analysis_in_environmental.aei.1996.pdf>.
Accessed September 25, 2017.

Schmalansee, R. and R. Stavins (2011). "A Guide to Economic and Policy Analysis for the Transport Rule." White Paper. Boston, MA. Exelon Corp.

And one reference that could either be revised in the references, or in the text? I'm not sure which format would be preferred.

In current reference list:

U.S. Department of Energy (U.S. DOE). 2017. U.S. Energy and Employment Report. Available at: <<https://energy.gov/downloads/2017-us-energy-and-employment-report>>. Accessed 5/30/2017.

But DOE has now posted a second PDF file at that link, that wasn't available back in May 2017. Now there are links to two separate PDF documents:

Download the full report and state charts.

 2017 US Energy and Jobs Report.pdf

 2017 US Energy and Jobs Report State Charts 2.pdf

In the RIA employment section, we cited them separately - DOE 2017a is the first link, the "full report". DOE 2017b is the second link, the "state charts". Not sure if folks prefer to list them separately in the references, or revise the section text to cite just one source for DOE 2017.

Thanks,

Ann

Hi Kathy, Robin, Alex, and Dave,

To help get things started, on the CPP repeal RIA revisions to the section on employment impacts, I’ve put together an initial draft, responding to interagency comments. I’ve also included draft responses to each interagency comment.

In responding to comments, I relied on interagency suggestions, our revisions to the CWR repeal RIA employment section, our discussions in the Task 1 workgroup and report, and pulling in additional details from the 2015 CPP RIA.

It would be great if we could meet sometime early next week to discuss.

Thanks,

Ex. 5 - Deliberative Process

This could well come up at the 1-2pm call tomorrow re CPP that Al Mc. sent out so to be most effective we need to prep key OAR bosses w/ common arguments (talking points). Erich would share, explain to Jeb/Rick, I'd share/explain to Carolyn, and Good Alex would share/explain to Darryl/Erika as well as Kevin C.

To implement this master plan, the 3 of us need to agree on arguments/TPs. Carolyn pointed out that ultimately they'd need to be compelling to Al (ideally) and part of that would be to make them compelling to his political bosses (Samantha, maybe Mandy, etc.). I think this kinda requires the super high level points and then the next level w/ a little more info for audience of Al Mc/staff.

Below is my first quick cut at arguments/TPs. I'm hoping we can agree on these NLT ~10am tomorrow so we all can share/use w/ our bosses.

Hi Neal,

As you know, we're wrapping up the RIA for interagency review to be sent out Wednesday (tomorrow). As part of this, we need to also send our associated workbooks, including the workbook(s) you've used to generate benefit numbers. FYI, whatever files I send tomorrow will likely end up in the docket.

Can you or someone else on your end prepare your spreadsheet(s) for sharing and send them to me by 1:00 pm Wednesday?

I'm happy to discuss tomorrow morning if it would be helpful.

Thanks for your help,

- Brian

Subject: Best practices for updating benefits estimates

Hi all,

As we reach our next major milestone for the CPP repeal and distribute the draft chapter to the management team, I wanted to thank you all for taking the time over the past several days to generate new numbers, populate tables and perform QA/QC. Prior to you guys joining the benefits team, we generally only tasked one person with performing the entire analysis. Partly for this reason, I'm less accustomed to performing this work as a team.

Whenever we update any benefits estimates (which occurs frequently in pretty much any RIA project), I think we should send a quick note to the benefits team as well as any “downstream” users of this information (in this case, Brian and Alex), indicating what has changed and by how much. This way, anyone using our numbers to calculate net benefits or NPV will know that they need to update their calculations.

Thanks again for all of your help and being willing to put in the extra effort to get this across the finish line.

FYI –

Senate Dems say Pruitt used 'mathematical sleights of hand'

Niina Heikkinen, E&E News reporter

Published: Friday, October 27, 2017

Senate Democrats want more details from U.S. EPA Administrator Scott Pruitt about how his agency crunched numbers to justify its plans to repeal a major Obama-era climate rule.

Sen. Tom Carper (D-Del.), the ranking member of the Senate Environment and Public Works Committee, and 18 other Democrats wrote a letter to Pruitt yesterday asking for all relevant documents — including emails, memos and meeting notes — related to the agency's cost-benefit analysis of the Clean Power Plan. The Obama-era regulation is meant to control carbon emissions from power plants.

The senators contend the agency's recent proposal to eliminate that rule shows "significant deficiencies."

They wrote to Pruitt, "At seemingly every turn, the 2017 Repeal proposal uses mathematical sleights of hand to overstate the costs of industry compliance with the 2015 Rule and under-state the benefits that will be lost if the 2017 Repeal is finalized. Denying the science [of climate change] and fabricating the math may satisfy the agency's paperwork requirements, but doing so will not satisfy the requirements of the law, nor will it slow the increase in frequency and intensity of extreme weather events, the inexorable rise in sea levels, or the other dire effects of global warming that our planet is already experiencing."

Carper and others point to an exponential increase in EPA's estimated cost of implementing the Clean Power Plan. The Obama administration placed the price tag at $5.1 billion to $8.4 billion by 2030. The Trump administration estimated costs reaching as much as $33.3 billion by 2030. At the same time, EPA slashed projected benefits from the rule from $20 billion by 2030 to between $500 million and $2.7 billion.

They note that Pruitt's EPA took a much different approach to calculating the cost of damages from climate change by focusing only on the impact of national carbon emissions, rather than global emissions (Climatewire, Oct. 25).

Some of Trump's supporters, including advocates of the fossil fuel industry, have argued that the value used by the Obama administration to calculate the future costs of climate change was too high.

The lawmakers also criticized Pruitt for his "rejection of the scientific consensus that greenhouse gas pollution causes global warming" and said they're still waiting on his response from an April request for more details about his views about global warming and his plans to repeal the Clean Power Plan. "Our review of the 2017 Repeal proposal only heightens our concerns," they said.

Carper's Democratic colleagues on the EPW Committee — Sens. Sheldon Whitehouse of Rhode Island, Ben Cardin of Maryland, Cory Booker of New Jersey, Kamala Harris of California and Jeff Merkley of Oregon — were among the others who signed the letter. They are requesting documents from the agency by Dec. 1.

EPA did not respond to the questions raised by the letter. "We will respond to the Senators through the proper channels," an EPA spokesman said in an email.

Hey folks,

I am accumulating documents to put in the docket for the CPP Repeal (which was signed today... WOOT?) and was wondering you had anything to add. I think the plan is to have this package published next week so we should have all the documents loaded up by the end of this week. Let me know if you have anything or any questions. Please include others that you may know with information that should be added. Thanks

All

I just realized that all of you may not know that Brian is taking the lead for CPP-related RIA activities. Brian has been key player in the final CPP, federal plan, proposed repeal, etc. and is very well prepared to take the helm.

I'll be moving to other projects, but since Brian and I sit in same area, I won't be far away if questions arise.

Thank you for your inquiry about the proposed repeal of the Clean Power Plan. Active platforms such as public comment periods associated with rulemakings are crucial to ensuring public participation in the regulatory process. Of equal importance is making sure your comments are officially added to the docket for this proposed action. Therefore, when commenting, it is important to follow one of these guidelines:

∇ Online: To comment online, go to <https://www.regulations.gov/docket?D=EPA-HQ-OAR-2017-0355>, click the “Comment Now!” button and follow the instructions as prompted.

∇ Email: Comments may be sent to a-and-r-Docket@epa.gov. You must include Docket ID No. EPA-HQ-OAR-2017-0355 in the subject line of the message.

∇ Mail: Please send to Environmental Protection Agency, EPA Docket Center (EPA/DC), Mail Code 28221T, Attention Docket ID No. EPA-HQ-OAR-2017-0355, 1200 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20460.

Comments must be received on or before December 15, 2017.

Again, thank you for your interest in this proposed rulemaking.

Elizabeth is working on pulling files together on SCC section – there are some new references. I don't think she can access the sharepoint site to upload so someone may have to do that for her.

Alex and I are putting in additional files cited in EE uncertainty section per Joe's agreement. Still need to finish that.

We should be good on economy wide (me), employment (Ann) and distributional impacts section (Kelly), the later 2 as you note. Also, I uploaded Tietenberg 1973

I've received files from Kelly and Ann. I added 2015 RIA, EE TSD, and EIA-related things (including AEOs 2015-17 and CPP 2015 analysis).

Dave/Joe: are all your files in?

Elizabeth/Alex Marten: any SCC materials need added?

Neal: did you send the articles you mentioned?

Anything else?

Sorry this is quick turnaround. We didn't realize we'd have to docket today.

Team

See below...the FR notice will be published Monday. We need to have our docket items to our coordinator by cob today. Here's what we plan to docket and the responsible party:

- New RIA and supporting spreadsheets (Brian)
- 2015 RIA and key supporting material (EE TSD, for example) (Alex Mac)
- Material passed back and forth between EIA and EPA. I'm told we do not need to docket teleconferences with EIA. (Alex Mac)
- Newly cited articles and reports (OP staff). For articles, please try to name pdf file according to the following convention:

- o Author YEAR.pdf
- o Author1 and Author2 YEAR pdf
- o Author1 et al YEAR.pdf
- o Organization YEAR.pdf

Do not send materials to me via email. Rather, send me an email that you have loaded you material into this directory on our team Sharepoint:

RIA was just sent over-- a tremendous thank you to all of you for your help in getting this done. As always, I'm impressed with the amazing OAR teamwork! You guys have done a great job on a really fast schedule. All of your effort and patience is very much appreciated.

Thanks,

Erika

Today's Webcast

What Does Repeal of the Clean Power Plan Mean for Future Climate and Energy Policies?

This is a reminder that the live webcast of "What Does Repeal of the Clean Power Plan Mean for Future Climate and Energy Policies?" will begin today at 12:45 p.m. EST at www.rff.org/live.

Join the webcast starting at 12:45 p.m.

This RFF seminar will explore the implications of each of these revisions for potential future climate and energy policy decisions. RFF's Alan Krupnick will reflect on the decision's treatment of health benefits, and Harvard University's Kathy Fallon Lambert will present new research on how repealing the Clean Power Plan would impact public health. RFF's Dallas Burtraw will conclude the seminar with a discussion of how a revised "inside the fence line" approach to Clean Power Plan compliance might work. Learn more about this event.

Sarah,

We met with OMB last night about the CPP repeal and came to an agreement that EPA would produce an RIA for the package, and we discussed what that would include.
